

DAILY PRACTICE
TANTRAYA PROMPTER CARD

Am I Dreaming?

10×DAY

Carry this card, or keep it in view, and pause at least ten times today. Each time, stop and ask yourself sincerely: am I dreaming right now? Then perform one test below before moving on. Trained often enough while awake, the habit will surface inside the dream itself.

FREQUENCY

10+ times daily

DURATION

10–15 seconds each

GOAL

Habit → dream carry-over

PERFORM ONE TEST

Your Hands

Look closely at your hands. Count your fingers. In a dream they often look wrong, blur, or the count changes.

Read It Twice

Read a line of text, look away, then read it again. Dream-text almost always changes or turns to nonsense.

Check A Clock

Look at a clock or your phone, look away, then look back. Dream-time rarely holds a consistent reading.

Pinch Your Nose

Pinch your nostrils shut and try to breathe through them. If air still flows, you are dreaming.

Flip A Switch

Try a light switch. Light levels behave strangely or fail to respond in most dreams.

Push Your Finger

Press a finger into your opposite palm. In a dream, it may slide through with no resistance.

ASK YOURSELF

- How did I get to this exact place?
- What was I doing five minutes ago?
- Does the room around me make logical sense?
- Is anything here slightly, or impossibly, off?

NOTICE YOUR DREAMSIGNS

- A sense of déjà vu, or a scene that feels oddly familiar
- Flying, falling, or moving without normal effort
- A deceased or absent person appearing as if nothing is wrong
- Rooms, stairs, or buildings that don't match real architecture
- Phones, clocks, or screens that malfunction or won't work right
- Faces that are subtly wrong, blurred, or keep changing

If It Doesn't Add Up If a test fails or something resists explanation, you are almost certainly dreaming. Stay calm, stabilize, rub your hands, name what you see, and carry your lucidity forward.
